

How many hats does an accountancy firm have?

There are many, many subsets of this and I think to do a proper and thorough job whilst delegation is one important factor, so is having a quality team, a clear idea of your ideal client and to focus on specifics not absolutely everything. Keep things simple and organic.

The same applies to many businesses.

Client work,
quality service and
results, advice &
relationships

Improvement of
process and systems,
benchmarking and
industry best practice
and collaboration.

Technology
and software

Team development
/ recruitment

HMRC changes
in rules

Winning new business

Accountancy, tax & business advice