What's your timeframe for replying to emails with general enquiries?

Often same day or within 24 hours

Is it best to get an accountant who lives in the same area as me or does that not matter in these days?

Face to face is always nice but is best to focus on a range of factors, see here:

How to choose accountant

Should I use a separate business account or mix it with my personal transactions?

Separate business account is best.

Is it straightforward to change accountants?

Yes it's straightforward, potential issues include fee disputes with the old firm or the old accountant not responding but we always get there in the end and the new accountant chases the old accountant so there is very little to do for the client.
